

China Compulsory Product Certification

The CHINA QUALITY CERTIFICATION CENTER has a certification system applicable to 135 different products which requires the manufacturers of those products to obtain the China Compulsory Certification ("CCC") mark before exporting to or selling in the China market. Ref: <http://www.cqc.com.cn/english/>

Affected products are further identified by the International Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System ("HS Code") posted at <http://www.cnca.gov.cn/cnca/rdht/qzxcprz/rzml/4719.shtml>, which does not contain any products with beginning with 8542XXX, which is the HS Code for integrated circuits.

Accordingly, for the above reasons, Intersil Corporation hereby certifies that its products are not subject to the CCC, nor does Intersil not export directly into China or directly sell into the China market.

Douglas A. Balog
Asst. Corporate Secretary
Intersil Corporation

